

DRI arrests 4 men with forex worth Rs 1.27 crore at Delhi airport

Press Trust of India | New Delhi June 21, 2019 Last Updated at 19:00 IST

The Directorate of Revenue Intelligence (DRI) has arrested four men at the Delhi international airport for allegedly trying to smuggle out forex worth Rs 1.27 crore, officials said Friday.

The accused were arrested when they were to depart for Bangkok on Thursday, they said.

A detailed search of the passengers and their baggage resulted in recovery of euros 1,52,000, equivalent to Rs 1.27 crore, the officials said.

All the passengers were arrested and the forex was seized, they added.